

Environmental management system audit in a minerals company installations

Client: Consulting company

Service employed: EMS experts

Duration: 2016

We are very proud of participating in the audit team for a detailed environmental management system (EMS) audit in one of the world's biggest minerals company installations in Greece.

During this assignment we followed our client's methodology and we identify all those situations implying environmental risk during the production and the storage processes. In particular, we reviewed files and processes as well as every day environmental practices and finally we recommended, whenever possible, necessary improvements. All these were finally presented to the client and the auditee.
